Sales Conditions, Terms, and Warranties

I am here for my dogs all the days of their lives, and appreciate emails, texts, calls, updates. I love getting photos! My dogs are sound in mind and body when leaving me. This animal is guaranteed to be in good health at the time of sale and has had temporary inoculations/vaccines against canine distemper hepatitis, adenovirus type 2, parainfluenza, and parvo virus. Dogs are treated monthly for heartworms as soon as they are old enough for that wormer, and are wormed on a regular basis. Hypoglycemia prevention is the responsibility of the buyer. Everything possible has been done to keep each puppy/dog healthy and happy. I cannot guarantee against any external parasites, virus, bacteria or allergy once the animal has left my care. The puppy/dog is not sold with the guarantee against coccidia or ghiardia (typically dormant single celled parasites common in puppies, but is dewormed several times prior to going home with you to avoid such issues). The buyer has a health guarantee of 2 business days, as long as the Free 30 day Trupanion ins was activated as instructed by seller, within 24hrs from the time of the transfer of the animal in which to have the animal checked by a licensed veterinarian. If the veterinarian finds anything seriously genetically wrong with the animal that will cause death, it will be exchanged for another animal that seller deems to be of equal value, when available or at the next whelping of a litter, provided a letter and all records with procedures, diagnosis, and of course of action from the examining veterinarian is offered for our records as evidence of the animal's death causing issue and the animal is returned within the guarantee period. No exchanges will be made after this period, and no cash refunds will be made under any circumstances. Seller provides a 1 year, from the time of birth, congenital health guarantee against death causing congenital issues as long as the free 30 day Trupanion pet insurance offer was activated within 24hrs of the transfer of the puppy/dog to them as instructed by the seller. In the unlikely event of death causing congenital health issue, it must be fully documented and diagnosed by a licensed veterinarian and may require second opinion by another licensed veterinarian for verification. Buyer agrees to notify seller at the time of occurrence of a death causing congenital health issue and shall have a full Necropsy performed by their licensed veterinarian. Buyer shall provide Necropsy results within 96hrs to be examined by seller and sellers licensed veterinarian. If found to be a covered congenital death causing defect the seller will provide a replacement animal, one that seller deems to be of equal value, at the next available whelping. Open fontanels on small puppies are not covered as a genetic health issue. Seller reserves the right of a second opinion given by their choice of vet if they should so desire. The health guarantee is non-transferable to a second party. Replacements are null and void if the animal has been used for breeding without a breeding contract. Sales conducted over the internet are legally binding and are considered part of a written contract. Refusal to complete payment for any animal will result in that buyer forfeiting the animal and any funds/monies may be at Sellers discretion. Any buyer that pays for an animal and refuses to accept that animal is subject to fees and fines for the housing, care, and any other expenses having to do with that animal for the time that the animal was held. Amounts of fees will vary depending on the amount of the time the animal was held, and expenses incurred. This amount is not limited to forfeiting the entire cost of the animal if the buyer fails to complete the purchase and has had the animal held while expenses were being incurred. The transfer of funds is agreement to these terms and conditions.

Seller assumes no financial responsibility after the animal leaves the premises. This is included but not limited to: medical expenses, landlords disapproval, allergy to animals, mortality, disagreement of family or spouse, or any other reason. Seller assumes no responsibility financially or otherwise for buyer's choice of ground transportation. Once the ground transporter has taken possession of the animal all liability lies between the buyer and the transporter whether it be family, friend, or business. It is the buyers responsibility to check and verify the credibility of any transport or nanny service. Seller is not responsible for the death of an animal if it is taken to a Banfield veterinarian. Banfield, or any other veterinarian or hospital who sells pet insurance has a conflict of interest and any diagnosis by such establishment will not be honored.

Duplications of vaccines already given by the seller or their veterinarian result in serious life-threatening consequences for which the seller is not responsible.
